

Review C: Agreement

EXERCISE In most of the following sentences, a verb does not agree with its subject, or a pronoun does not agree with its antecedent. Cross out any incorrect verb or pronoun. Then, above it, write the correct form. If the sentence is already correct, write C next to its number.

Examples 1. Most were satisfied with ~~his or her~~ ^{their} grade.

2. A squirrel or a bird ~~have~~ ^{has} been eating the blackberries off the vine.

- Neither potatoes nor rice were my favorite dish.
- One of your answers was incorrect.
- Either Marisa or he are going to be the delegate to the conference.
- One of the boys left their raincoat on the bus.
- Where is the gifts you bought?
- Neither her brothers nor she expects the team to win.
- His feelings after the defeat was a combination of anger and disbelief.
- Each of the delegates will pay their own expenses.
- There was large quantities of surplus wheat in the grain elevators.
- Two thirds of the day were spent getting the car repaired.
- Neither Marco nor Lisette want to go fishing this afternoon.
- Most of the games at the fair are intended for very young children.
- Their hopes for a successful play was shattered by poor reviews.
- Each of the students chose their own project.
- A large crowd of people was clapping their hands and cheering.
- There is always at least two librarians at the reference desk.
- Every understudy who plan to succeed must be ready to perform at a moment's notice.
- Not one of my classmates were prepared for the surprise quiz.
- Some of the coins on the table belongs to me.
- One quarter of the students want to join the drama club.